Re: Upcoming Channel 1970 Programs, etc.

Many good things are happening, in spite of our confinement. The response to the dining survey has been excellent. As of this writing, we've received over 181 responses. If you are one of the few who has not returned your survey, today is the last day to get it in. Trevor Weiss is busily compiling the results, and I hope to be able to share them with you next week, or the following week at the latest.

We're also working on getting more benches to place around the property, but that may take a little longer. It's turning out to be surprisingly complicated, so please be patient—benches will come! A new thing that is coming very soon—June 1, actually—is a biweekly four page newsletter called “While We're Waiting,” an effort spearheaded by Arline Lieberman, with help from lots of other residents. It does not replace “Inside Dunwoody”, which will resume when the pandemic clears, but we hope it will give people a lift while we're waiting for nasty bugs to go away and a measure of freedom to return.

And of course there will be TV programs on 1970 this week! Movies include “My Cousin Vinny,” “Funny Girl,” and “Nebraska.” Rick Steves returns, with visits to Sweden and Finland. Museum Masterpieces at the Louvre this week features French 17th century painting. On Monday, “The World Was Never the Same” discusses Dante, and then delves into the Black Death and pandemics. Later in the week the program features Christopher Columbus, Michelangelo, Erasmus, and Luther. On Wednesday evening the Berlin Philharmonic plays Beirio, Schumann, and Fauré. And Thursday afternoon, Hyacinth Bucket (“It's pronounced Bouquet”) continues to create mayhem on “Keeping Up Appearances.” All this after you've done your morning exercises!

Be well, stay safe, and follow the rules. We depend on each other for protection. Things will get better.

PLEASE TURN OVER TO SEE THE 1970 SCHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK
