

January 2, 2026

Dear Residents, Families & Staff:

January represents beginnings, endings, transitions, and new starts, named after the Roman god Janus, who looks to the past and future, making it a symbolic door to the new year, associated with resolutions, fresh perspectives, and winter's stark beauty. It signifies hope, ambition, and reflection as people step into a new cycle, marking the start of the Gregorian calendar year. Take the time this year to try something new. Consider becoming a member of one of our many resident committees, sign up for our resident lectures and book reviews, join the choral group or take up a new hobby with our Arts & Crafts. Most of all, remember to take advantage of our fitness programs and attend our Wellness Wednesdays to help you enjoy a healthy 2026!

Bill Durbin – Dunwoody Village's New COO

We are very pleased to announce that Bill Durbin joined the organization as our new Chief Operating Officer (COO) on December 31, 2025.

Bill comes to us after serving as the Director of Technology and Projects at Foulkeways since 2013. In this highly visible role, Bill was responsible for a wide array of important duties -- everything from modernizing the technology infrastructure that supported corporate and residential service functions to developing and overseeing large construction projects that included a new personal care building, a kitchen renovation project, and the addition of new residential units. Additionally, Bill led a strategic/master planning initiative that envisioned Foulkeways 2, 5, 10, and 50 years into the future and even implemented campus security and safety systems across the entire campus. Previously to his time at Foulkeways, Bill held managerial positions with companies including InterBay Funding, CompuCom, Travelers Life and Annuity, GE Capital, the Transportation Security Agency, Pfizer, AstraZeneca, and PA Power and Light. Bill earned his bachelor and master degrees in Electrical Engineering from Penn State.
